1	Q.	Pleas	se indicate in detail the demand values used in calculating Industrial
2		custo	omer bills. Do the billing methods use contracted demands, actual
3		dema	ands, ratcheted demands?
4
6	Α.	There are currently three demand values used in calculating Industrial
7		custo	omer monthly bills. They are:
8
9		a)	Power on Order – The customer declares to Hydro, in writing, not later
10			than October 1 of each calendar year its amount of Power on Order
11			for the following calendar year. There is a contracted maximum for
12			each customer.
13
14		b)	Interruptible – That part of a customer's demand which exceeds its
15			Power on Order which may be interrupted, in whole or in part, at the
16			discretion of Hydro.
17
18			Provided the amount of Power on Order is equal to or greater than
19			20,000 kW, the amount of Interruptible demand available is the
20			greater of 10% of the Power on Order and 5,000 kW. If the amount of
21			Power on Order is less than 20,000 kW, the amount of Interruptible
22			demand available is 25% of the Power on Order.
23
24		C)	Generation Outage Power – The power taken by the customer which
25			exceeds the sum of the Amount of Power on Order and the maximum
26			Interruptible demand taken in the month and which is required to
27			temporarily replace that Generating capacity which is rendered
28			unavailable to the customer due to a Generation outage.

4	The Concretion Outcore domand is not to evened the emount of
I	The Generation Outage demand is not to exceed the amount of
2	generating capacity rendered unavailable because of the generation
3	outage.
4
5	The amount of demand billed monthly for Power on Order is as declared by
6	the customer no later than October 1 of the previous calendar year.
7
8	The Interruptible demand billed monthly is the maximum Interruptible
9	demand taken during the month.
10
11	The Generation Outage demand billed monthly is the sum of the daily
12	Generation Outage demands taken during the month divided by the number
13	of days in the month.
