

Distribution

Q. Does NP provide consultative advice to prospective and existing street lighting customers on the respective energy consumption of high versus low pressure sodium bulb street lighting?

A. Newfoundland Power does not provide any consultative advice to existing or prospective customers on this issue. It should be noted that Newfoundland Power does not offer low pressure sodium lighting as an alternative to high pressure sodium lighting.