

Distribution

Q. Why is there no provision made for labour or engineering related to the purchase and replacement of transformers (B-42, Transformers)?

A. The Transformer budget category contains only the capital cost to purchase transformers. The labour and engineering costs associated with the installation of transformers is allocated to either operating expense or is included in the budget for labour costs associated with projects in the Extensions or Reconstruction budget categories.