I am writing with my ideas on rate mitigation for the people of Newfoundland and Labrador. In my opinion the only fair and equitable place to start rate mitigation is to claw back the monies paid to the world class experts at Nalcor and the provincial government. The list that I would start with is the following: Danny Williams, Kathy Dunderdale, Paul Davis, Ed Martin, Gilbert Bennett, Paul Harrington, Charles Bown, Paul Humphries, and Derrick Sturge.

Although we could only recover millions of dollars from these world class experts it would be a good starting point. It would also serve as a deterrent to other world class experts that are eyeing future mega projects for our fair province. (Gull Island)

Unless and until these world class experts forfeit the monies they received, I have no appetite for helping to pay for Muskrat Falls.
