

Q. Please confirm that the current utility betas calculated by Dr. IBooth are not in the range of 0.45 - 0.55

A. Correct, but then Dr. Booth has never relied on current estimates since they simply reflect what has happened in the previous five years and that is not a good indicator of what is likely to happen in the next five years since that depends on where we are in the business cycle.