7    A.    Hydro does have the ability to produce customer data from January 1, 2007 to 8           August 31, 2013. The efforts associated with such production will require retrieval 9           and analysis of historical data from Hydro’s customer information system. The 10          estimated cost of this effort is approximately $30,000.
