

1 Q: Does Mr. Raphals believe that rational people can hold different but valid opinions on
2 fairness? Please explain.

3

4 A: The view of Mr Raphals is as follows:

5 Rational people can certainly hold dramatically different opinions on any number of issues.
6 However, all opinions are not equally “valid”. In my opinion, opinions that are justified based on 7 facts, clearly stated principles and transparent reasoning are more “valid” than those that are not.

8