

- 1 Q. [Brad Rolph Evidence, page 2]
2
3 With respect to common services that Hydro renders for its affiliates, it is Mr.
4 Rolph's opinion that:
5
6 (i) allocating the HR, and safety and health-related costs to be recovered
7 using FTEs as the allocator is reasonable; and,
8
9 (ii) allocating IS-related costs to be recovered using average number of 10 users as the allocator is reasonable.
11
12 Did Mr. Rolph evaluate the reasonableness of the methodology used by Hydro
13 to calculate FTEs and average users for purposes of allocating common
14 services?
15
16
17 A. I did not evaluate the reasonableness of the methodology used by Hydro to 18 calculate FTEs and average users for the purpose of allocating common services.
